My company, Ross Manufacturing, LLC, is in the Residential Ventilation business. We contracted with Fenestration Testing Labs in Medley, FL to test some of our ventilation products for several entities: The Texas Department of Insurance (TDI); Florida State Building Code; and Miami-Dade County. All of these entities require exact and stringent testing procedures in order for a company to be listed as having passed the requirements and to be issued an official number.

We found Fenestration to be very price competitive in regards to their testing fees. Other labs we have used with were more expensive. Also their client relationships left a lot to be desired and therefore we left dissatisfied.

This was not the case with Fenestration. All of the employees we dealt with were professional and seemed genuinely concerned that all tests were being conducted within the guidelines of each entity.

I highly recommend Fenestration Testing Laboratory for any of your testing needs.
